Stampede to Sell Brought a Decline of 31-2 Per Cent.

The Trust Clique Believed to Be Behind the Move-Indianapolis Grain Active and Lower.

At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy at 1 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 31405 per cent. Sterling exchange was firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.88% @4.89 for demand and at $4.87\4@4.87\\2 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.87@4.89%; commercial bills,

$4.8614@4.86%. Silver certificates, 5874@59c. Bar silver closed at 59%c per ounce; at London, 27%d. Total sales of stocks amounted to 219,100 shares, American Sugar leading with sales of 106,500. The speculation in the shares of the American Sugar Refining was the great feature on the Stock Exchange yesterday. With the exception of a slight movement in Burlington & Quincy and St. Paul the trading in the rest of the list was sluggish and the sales of all combined did not equal the transactions in Sugar. At the opening Sugar declined 1/4 per cent. and then rose 1/4. But before 11 o'clock a well-defined selling movement in the shares had been inaugurated, which sent prices down rapidly until 88% was touched shortly after 3 o'clock, making a decline of 4% per cent. from the closing figures of Monday. A large selling order executed through the brokers of a wellknown bear operator started the downward movement and led to the belief that the Sugar pool was liquidating necessarily. This caused a rush to sell on the part of many holders not in the clique. Later in the afternoon there were evidences of strong buying, which caused a recovery of 214, but in the final dealings the selling was resumed and a reaction of 1% was made, the closing being at a decline of 3% on the day. The general market opened firm at an advance of 160% per cent. Chicago Gas made an advance of 1 per cent. In the early dealings, but quickly reacted %. Northern Pacific preferred on small transactions sold up 1% per cent. Flucuations, except in some of the specialties, were confined to very narrow limits up to noon, but Chicago & Alton rose 2 per cent. and Edison Electric declined % per cent. Later in the day declined 14 per cent. Later in the day speculation took on a firmer tone, and the best buying of the day was seen, which sent up prices 1/6/1/4c, Burlington, Lead, Western Union and Baltimore & Ohio leading the upward movement. The higher range of values induced realizations of profits, and in the final dealings a reacti n of 1/40% in the general list took place, the market closing easy, the final sales including an advance of 1% in Cordage, 1% in Northern Pacific preferred, % in Burling-ton & Quincy, 1 in Louisville & New Albany

The railway and miscellaneous bond mar-ket was strong throughout the day, the leading changes being: Advances-Peorla & Eastern Illinois, 2; Chicago, St. Louis & New Orleans, Memphis division firsts, and Consumers' Gas of Chicago, firsts, "and Northern Pacific, firsts registered, each 4; Rock Island sixes, Northwest sinking fund sixes, Knoxville & Ohio firsts, Edison Electric firsts, Chicago & Erie firsts, Chesapeake & Ohlo, Southwestern Ohlo sixes, coupon and Atlantic & Pacific fours, each per cent. Declines-Peoria, Decatur & Evansville seconds, 3, and Akron & Chicago Junction firsts, 1/2 per cent. Government bonds were firm, State bonds were inactive.

and Baltimore & Ohio.

Trade More Active, Sugars Off 1-Sc and Poultry 1-2c.

The springlike weather gave a good deal of life to trade on the wholesale streets yesterday. Sugars declined 1/3c and coffees are easier. These are the first changes in several weeks in the grocery line, and now that declines have set in more will not be a surprise. Green apples are very scarce and sold yesterday at $7.50 per brl. Kale and other greens are in good supply, and sold yesterday as low as 50c per brl. In the other markets there were no new features. The local grain market showed a little more life, but wheat went off 1/2c. Corn was the same as on Monday and oats, some grades, a cent higher. About Irrigation.

Germantown Telegraph. The subject of irrigation is attracting more and more attention, and is being considered even outside of the rainless districts or arid regions. Its advantages are being recognized, but with the consideration of the subject comes in the question of methods to be employed, and it can be tested nowhere more successfully than in a locality where irrigation becomes a necessity. The States of the Western plains where the atmosphere is destitute of moisture and the rainfall but limited, and confined to a season when it is but little available, have been compelled from the force of circumstances to adopt irrigation as a means of successful agriculture, and with the suggestions touching subirrigation the study of its effects is commenced. The Utah Experiment Station has been making investigations comparing subirrigation with surface irrigation in its effects upon growng crops, temperature of soil, atmosphere about the plant and the lateral movement of subirrigation water. These have been carefully made by Professor Sanborn, and cover a period of four years. From the experiments made these conclusions are reached: 1. Subirrigation, whether by large, open drains or by the cement-pipe system, fails to supply moisture enough for growing 2. The lateral movement of water was too slow to furnish the requisite supply for the evaporation of plants, being at the rate of a very few inches per day. 3. The subirrigated soil was warmer than the surface irrigated soil.

4. The atmosphere around the plants to the height or twelve inches was warmer by subirrigation than by surface irrigation. 5. The subirrigated soil did not contain as much moisture as the surface irrigated soil. 6. The conclusion is reached that for the farm where the experiment was conducted the lateral movement of water could not be made rapid enough for maximum crop 7. The system is too costly for ordinary farm crops. The last conclusion is the one of the most consequence to farmers; the cost of any system of proposed improvement should always be taken into consideration in comparison with the benefits, and unless there is a fair balance in favor of the latter they had better be abandoned. Subirrigation involves considerable outlay, and the results in a level country are stated as above; but at the same time if a system of irrigation was to be applied to a section of country uneven in surface, so that there would be a much stronger lateral movement of the water, the effect would be somewhat improved, but it is reasonable to suppose that the item of expense would still prove an obstacle in the In the case above mentioned, while the results varied somewhat from year to year, in the case of grain there was a marked difference in favor of surface irrigation both in the grain and straw, while in the aggregate for two years with hay the result was in favor of surface irrigation in the ratio of thirty to fifty-three. With grain and straw the difference was not quite so marked.

Seed Potatoes. Philadelphia Press.

The farmers near Louisville, Ky., have, for several years past, been in the habit of growing two crops of potatoes on the same land. The early spring and hot summer cause the first crop to ripen early in July. The land is plowed and immediately replanted, and the second crop is killed by frost in October when the tubers are half to two-thirds grown and still quite immature. These second-crop tubers are inferior for eating, but, it is claimed, are far better for next spring planting than the first crop, and for the following reasons: 1. They keep in a cool cellar without sprouting or shrivelling or losing one particle of their vigor. It seems that having been checked before maturity, they lie dormant, ready to send up a shoot when again in warm ground as vigorously as they were growing when stopped by the

2. They never send up but one sprout. This is true whether they are planted whole or cut to any number of eyes down to one. The consequence is that all the growth goes into the tubers that come on one stalk (generally from five to eight), and these all grow to full marketable size. If the ground be very rich, and the season fine, they will all be extremely large.

3. They can be cut six weeks, or in fact any length of time before planting. The only precaution necessary is that they shall be kept, after being cut, in barrels open at the top only. If there are openings at the side or bottom the pieces thus exposed will deteriorate. The gardener or farmer using second-crop seed can do his cutting on l rainy days or at other convenient times, | and he will always be ready to take full advantage of a spell of good weather for

4. Growers of second crops by planting early in July in this latitude can get a fine crop of full-grown potatoes, which sell better in market than those from the North; or by waiting until the latter part of the month they get seed potatoes of the very

FIRMER AT CHICAGO

Wheat Had a Narrow Range, but Closed at a Small Advance.

Other Cereals Developed Marked Strength and Provisions Managed to Hold a Gain of 5c in Part.

CHICAGO, March 20 .- Wheat was firm but quiet to-day, closing 4c higher for May, after a range of only 1/2c. The prospects of a cold wave, fairly liberal clearances and the small total affoat for Europe helped the price, while the warm rains, lower cables and free selling on the hard spots prevented a marked advance. May closed only 1/8c from the top. Corn was strongest toward the close. Oats were very strong, with a net advance secured in corn of 1/4c, and 1/4@1/4c in oats. Provisions made a fair advance early, but lost nearly all of it before the close.

The developments of the market news during the afternoon averaged more favorably for wheat bulls. The price, after hanging for over half an hour within 1-16c of the closing quotation of the previous afternoon, began to respond slightly to the few bullish features of the morning's news. There was no encouragement in the early cablegrams, which reflected the previous day's weakness here. The Northwestern receipts were a little lighter than on the day before. Reports from Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee said that wheat was jointed, and therefore easily susceptible to damage by late frosts, should they occur, and the weather bureau here coming out with a prediction of a cold snap caused enough apprehension among the shorts to induce some cautious covering up of their exposed contracts. The New York clearances of yesterday were quite liberal of wheat and flour, which likewise helped the price a little when reported. The total afloat for Europe was 5,682,000 bushels, which is at least 1,500,000 bushels under the estimated weekly requirements of the importing countries. Under the combined influences of the foregoing the price of May wheat rose from 57%c and 57%c, around which it had been playing for half an hour, to 58@58%c. Business was rather light, principally on local account, but with some trade from New York, chiefly in the way of buying, and with some orders from St. Louis on both sides of the market. Bradstreet's usual weekly estimates of the changes in warehouse stocks throughout the world and afloat for Europe gave a total decrease of 1,940,000 bushels. The same authority estimated the decrease of the week preceding at 633,000 bushels. There was a continuation of the inquiry for cash No. 2 spring wheat here, with 50,000 bush-els reported worked by Boyden & Co. early in the session. It was said there were orders in the market here for over 500,000 bushels of No. 2 spring at 1/2c under the price for May, which, so far, the buyers had not been able to secure at that limit. The closing cables brought slightly lower quotations, for the price almost stood still at 57%c for forty-five minutes in the last hour of the session. The closing price for May was 57%@58c, and of July, 59%c. The corn market was firm and made a slight gain. The Liverpool market was quoted at a slight advance, and the estimated receipts for to-morrow show a large reduction from the recent average. There was also a brisk demand from shippers. The opening price for May was 36%c, and a gradual advance to 37%c took place. The advance was well maintained throughout the remainder of the session. A fair amount of business was trans-acted in oats at higher prices. The firmness in corn and a stronger cash market was also favorable in retaining the slight strength that developed early. May started 14c up from yesterday's latest quotation at 301/4c, and sold up to 301/4c. Towards the close the market advanced to 301/4c and closed with sellers at 30% @30%c. The late advance was caused principally by Carrington-Hannah, who bid the market up to 30%c when shorts were bidding freely. The provision market was firmer at the opening, due to the receipt of only 16,000 hogs, whereas 21,000 had been the previous estimate. There was some further advance following the gain at the opening, but packers showed a disposition to sell at the better prices. Wolf was among the more prominent buyers of pork early in the day. Armour & Co., later on, were sellers of ribs to a moderate extent, and Beasly was a buyer for the Cudahy Packing Com-pany, it was thought. Estimated receipts of hogs for to-morrow are 23,000 head,

Pork was relatively firmer than lard and ribs. In lard there was a slight pressure to sell, as the market was coming to a close for the day, and all the previous advance and 21/2c besides was lost. Pork, after gaining 15c, closed with the modest advance of 5c, and ribs, after a rise of .071/2c, left off at yesterday's closing quotation for May. Estimated receipts for to-morrow are:

TRADE IN GENERAL.

Quotations at St. Louis, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Other Points.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 20.-Wheat-Receipts to-day were 18i cars: shipments, 30 cars. The market opened steady at yesterday's closing prices, later advanced about ½c, but trade was very light all day in wheat for future months. Sales of stock wheat were mainly at 59% @60c for No. 1 Northern, with No. 2 from 1 to 11/2c under No. 1 Northern and No. 1 hard %c to 2c above No. 1 Northern. Prices opened at 57%c for May; July, 5944659%c. Close: March, 584c; May, 5846584c; July, 59%c. On track: No. 1 hard, 62c; No. 1 Northern, 60c; No. 2 Northern, 584c. The Maket Record says the production in flour in Minneapolis last week was 185,208 brls, which is the largest production of any week since early in January, and this is at the rate of 30,833 brls daily. Shipments for the week ended Saturday were 170,750 bris, against shipments of 162,491 in the same week last year. The direct exports of flour during the past week were 48,436 brls, against 41,-271 bris the previous week, with 42,517 bris for two weeks ago and 35,360 bris three weeks ago. It is noticeable, therefore, that as the season advances the tendency is to a greater production of flour, and also to larger export shipment, in spite of the dull trade. The market was quiet and values steady, with patents selling in barrels at $3.25@3.45, bakers' at $1.70@2, with some baker held above $2 and some patents held above $3.45. A part of the week's production was applied on previous sales, as grain sales did not equal the grain production.
